Feijen and Zvilar battle for the Gold

9-Ball individuals down to final matches

Portoroz, Slovenia: In the men's semi-final, Niels Feijen (NED) destroyed Mateusz Sniegocki (POL) with 9:4.

Feijen was simply too strong for Sniegocki who could never get to his A-game. Sniegocki committed two fouls in the first two racks and was easy prey for Feijen who capitalized from these mistakes without any mercy. After 13 racks, the match found a just winner in Niels Feijen. He only missed one shot in the whole match and his safety play was much better than Sniegocki's. The Polish player seemed to be a bit tired and did not play up to what he played in earlier matches.

Niels Feijen (NED)

In the second semi-final of the men's division, Zoran Svilar (SRB) booked his ticket for the final match by hammering young Ivo Aarts (NED) with 9:1. Aarts was not too sad about this though since it was his first European Championships in the men's division and he achieved an A-status with the Dutch Olympic Committee since he achieved a 3rd place in a European Championships.

In the women's division, Jasmin Ouschan (AUT) wasted no time on Caroline Roos (SWE). The Austrian won 7:1 and left no chance to her opponent at any time in the match. The other semi-final in the women's division was much more exciting. Line Kjoersvik (NOR) had to work hard to finally get to the final with a 7:6 victory over Sandra Baumgartner (AUT).
