Team Germany wins World Cup of Pool

Souquet and Hohmann undefeated

Tuesday, 13 September 2011: GERMANY became the first ever European winners of the PartyCasino.net World Cup of Pool as they made light work of shock finalists Thailand to record a superb 10-4 victory and claim the gold medals, trophy, $60,000 and more importantly the title at the SM Mall North in Manila.

Thorsten Hohmann and Ralf Souquet put in an inch perfect performance to run away with the match in sharp contrast to their semi-final game earlier in the day when they laboured to a pedestrian win over Korea.

They clearly gave themselves a good talking to between matches as they returned with the type of form that has made them two of the most feared players in the world. For Souquet it was a culmination of a magnificent seven days that saw him win the PartyPoker.net World Pool Masters last Monday and his total haul for the two events has been $50,000.

"It's still hard to believe and it hasn't sunk in yet. We really worked hard for the title and held ourselves together," said a jubilant Souquet.

"We had a really hard semi-final that could've gone wrong and I played awful against Korea but Thorsten carried me to the final.
